The 85th KFF AGM_26th January 2018

The minutes will be sent to all members in due course but the main points are listed below:

Club officials. Clare Fox and Val Calder stood down from their respective posts and from the committee. Peter Blamire was appointed as Vice Chairman, Helen Speed as Treasurer and Jan Lancaster as Social Secretary. Pam Heseltine filled the one vacant place on the committee. All other committee posts are as before. Kevin Ford replaces Cheryl Smallwood as a Trustee. All were appointed unopposed. Full contact details are given right:

Finance and Fundraising. Spending on High House has been quite minimal in the last year and so the club's bank balance has improved substantially since the big fund-raising debate of the previous year. The Club still needs to raise money but perhaps with not quite the urgency that was then thought. The main item of the evening's discussion was the proposal by the committee to implement a change to the Hut Policy to allow it to charge members night fees for staying at High House:

Hut Night Fees. The proposed change was agreed and the committee now has a mandate to charge fees if it needs to do so. The fee for 2018 is set at zero and any change to this figure will be subject to ratification at a General Meeting.

Nomination of Officers. A change to the Constitution was agreed to allow the committee to set a deadline for nominations before future AGMs. (Copies of the new Policy

Sent: 01/04/2018 08:45:

Below is a piece I wrote after two glorious days at the hut (Green Gable, Seathwaite Fell, snow pack rain hail).

'Sitting there by the stove with dad's photo on the wall (taken at a Wasdale gathering) I was moved by the memories of just how much the hut and the fells meant to the Fellfarers back in the day when most of them worked long hours in the factory.

The hut and the hills were a great release for them and of course their experience was set against living thru the Great Depression and the Second World War, quite different from ours in the present day.

Having said that it does evoke the feelings I feel myself!

*"This is the ground primeval the moss girt rocks and the sky
This the land that I sprang from, mountain and fellside so high.
It's here that my heart springs to life, opens with love for it all
Forgetting the weeks dull days of labour thru each striding footfall.
For now it's up to the fell, soaring past Sourmilk Ghyll
That my labouring lungs must propel me, skyward to drink my fill.
The wind might tug at my hair the rain slash at my face
But my heart is bursting with love for the mountains and my mates.
For its cold joy in a solitary passage, so much warmer shared with a friend
And delights of the summits are worth less if the valley is empty below.
Now the countryside lies before us, spread out as a toy on a rug
And the peace of the top envelops us, all paths from here descending.
Time for a jam sandwich and a cup of hot coffee in a chipped mug.
Time to ponder the ages it took, to carve out the mountain neath our feet
Such a beautiful world of wildness, sewn together, a patchwork quilt
Of rock, soil, plants and animals watered into nature's jigsaw sublime.
Perhaps time to wonder, a touch of sadness a cold tear, in our eye.
At civilisation and us humans, so apt to to tear down blow up and destroy.
Descending back to valley below, knees are starting to ache
Our thighs begin to protest as Stockley Beck Bridge we approach.
Then it's the longest weary mile, from bridge to hut, we must tread
Back to the hut and its friendships, it's warmth some tea and a bed".*

Cheers
Jim

PS We had a great party for Alex with fifty guests! Edith Stilling made a brief appearance!

Clachaig Chalet Meet, Glencoe. 12-14th January 2018

Hughie writes:

The 40th Annual Glencoe Meet (joint with Bassetlaw MC)

K Fellfarers - Mick, Alan, Hugh, Jan, Kevin, Norman, Graham, and Veronica

Bassetlaw MC - Charles, Alvin, Adam, and Mick

It was the 40th anniversary of this annual Meet, and three chalets were booked - Rowan, Birch, and Beech. Mel had flu so was unable to make it. An indifferent forecast for the weekend proved slightly pessimistic, and some tops were achieved.

On the way up, Alan, Hugh, and Norman stopped off at the newish Riverside Museum in Glasgow for some interesting transport displays.

Meanwhile Mick (KFF), Jan, and Kevin had a riverside walk to see The Falls of Leny near Callendar, and Alvin and Mick (BMC) had an abortive attempt on Ben Vorlich.

The forecast for Saturday was for strong winds, so Hugh persuaded Mick (KFF) and Norman into a walk into the Coire Gabhail (Lost Valley) to find some snow to play in, without much success.

Jan and Kevin opted for Beinn a'Chrulaiste, a Corbett near the Kingshouse (now being redeveloped) and had a successful if windy outing (Jan at the summit, left).

The Bassetlaw group had a successful walk up the Munro Buachaille Etive Beag, with Adam ticking off both tops.

The music in the pub that evening was better and quieter than usual, and a great night was had. It's good news that this Meet, once in danger of stopping due to a lack of numbers, has taken off again, and the same three chalets have been booked again for next year.

Charlie's Walk. Saturday 13th January 2018

Midweek Walk No 93. Wednesday 17th January 2018

A Circular walk from Orton

Norman, Jenny, Roger, Hugh & Angie, Mike, Ray, Les

Four members turned back after encountering snow on the road (with more forecast to come) but eight others braved the weather and met up at the chocolate factory cafe in Orton. The plan was to walk to Crosby Ravensworth via Robin Hoods Grave, returning via Bank Moor and Gamelands Stone Circle.

Norman writes: The route was from Orton north to Crosby Ravensworth via what appears to be an old track. Over the ridge, west of Orton Scar, a long gradual descent begins and first encounters a well-established cairn known as 'Robin Hood's Grave'. Hugh, Angie, and Les were concerned about the return journey in the snow and so turned back after Robin Hoods Grave.

Along Hollins Scar, where Ray and Mike freed a sheep with its horn caught in the hay feeder, there are views across to source of the river Lyvennet which is at King's Well (a spring).

After passing Crosby Lodge we descended to footbridges to cross the river for tea, sitting on an old field roller. After that we followed the river to Crosby Ravensworth. As 'The Butchers' was closed until the evening, we turned for the return journey immediately, and had lunch on the side of the road to Bank Head Farm, with fine views of the snowy countryside and the village. A kestrel hunted in the strong breeze right in front of us. Then the road becomes a byway and heads SE up to Bank Moor where we followed the track south over Graythorne Plain, steadily climbing to Orton Scar, east of the monument. There were good views across to the snowy Pennines one way, and to the Howgills the other. From there, downhill back to Orton, omitting a visit to the stone circle as the snow would have rendered the fallen stones less than dramatic.

High House Quiet Weekend. 19-22nd January 2018

Margaret & Roger, Mick & Clare, Fred & Jean, Val, and Ruth

The day turned sunny unexpectedly and Ruth, Clare and Mick walked over from Rosthwaite to Watendlath and returned over the snowy summit of Brund Fell (Grange Fell) (right), whilst Margaret, Roger, Fred, Jean and Val stayed below the snowline, walking the valley bottom from High House into Johnny Wood and back.

The day was finished with a very good meal in the busy bar at the Scafell Hotel. The forecast was for heavy snow in Borrowdale overnight and for all day on Sunday. While the thought of getting snowed in at High House is very attractive when you should be at work (or school) it becomes less appealing when you know you could be at home listening to Radio 4 rather than shovelling snow to get up the farm road. We all bailed out on Saturday evening.

To come in the next issue:

Midweek Walk No 94. Hart Crag. Wednesday 21st February 2018

Appetite Enhancer and Annual Dinner. Saturday 24th February 2018

Working Weekend

10th Annual Scottish Hotel Meet. 18th - 23rd March 2018

Incorporating Midweek Walk No 95.

There are up to 53 places available on the coach and priority will be given to K Fellfarers members. We must know how many are interested very early so that we can book the right size of coach.

The cost of the coach will be about £500, paid for by Rod's gift, and all other costs (drinks and food) are to be met by individuals.

We need to know numbers as soon as possible so if you are interested please get in touch by emailing Clare Fox at clarefox50@hotmail.com or by telephone: 01539 727531.

ALSO: If you would like to go on the trip but cannot make the 7th of July please let Clare know. If necessary the date might be changed to accommodate members.

To come:

1. A boat trip across Ullswater to various walks around Martindale (in recognition of the day the club gathered round for Rod's Last Wainwright on his 50th birthday).
